

Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction

2018 Fall Course

Presented by Meghan Searl, Ph.D.

MBSR

Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) is a life affirming, challenging practice in which you engage your own innate capacities to care for your body and mind. With commitment to yourself and your guide, you can find access to greater well-being and peace of mind.

Meditation helped in "getting myself to overcome fear of failure – to accept that failure is non-existent with the practice." (course participant)

Instruction

This course is led by Meghan Searl, Ph.D. at the Osher Clinical Center. It is based on the Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) program developed at the Center for Mindfulness at UMass Medical Center in Worcester, Massachusetts.

You Will Learn:

- ❖ Practical coping skills to improve your ability to handle stressful situations;
- ❖ Methods for being physically and mentally relaxed and at ease;
- ❖ Gentle, full-body conditioning exercises to strengthen your body and release muscular tension;
- ❖ How to become increasingly aware of the interplay of mind and body in health and illness;
- ❖ How to take responsibility for improving your own health;
- ❖ How to face difficult times in your life with greater ease;
- ❖ How to develop your abilities to help yourself move towards greater balance, control, and peace of mind.

You Will Receive:

- ❖ Guided instruction in mindfulness meditation and mindful Yoga practices;
- ❖ Individually tailored instruction;
- ❖ A range of exercises to enhance awareness in everyday life;
- ❖ Exercises and methods to enhance interpersonal communication skills;
- ❖ Daily homework assignments;
- ❖ Course materials: Audio-guided mindfulness practices (MP3s) and a workbook.
